CONKLING'S BRUTUS.

The accounts of "Sam" Lowery, who has just beaten Mr. Conkling in the convention at Utica, and was a delegate to the State Convention Oct. 5th, putting Mr. Conkling in the ludicrous position of contesting the seat from his own home, are very interesting. It appears he is a small Irishman "mild visaged" and "oily spoken," and when not occupied with politics is occupied with the manufacture of knit underclothing. He is an Ulster Protestant, but popular with the Catholics, and has for many years made it his life work to whittle down the Conkling Caesar to ordinary mortal proportions. He never allowed any of the whittling he had done on the Caesar to be repaired or put over, or anything of that kind, so that when he resumed his operations, there never was anything to be done over again. He must in fact long ago have damaged the magnificent torso more than the world knew. He is master of political intrigue, but does not seek office, and will be satisfied with the honor of ousting Mr. Conkling from a seat in the Convention and occupying it himself. He is not an orator, but excels in "drastic retorts."

ONLY A FEW QUESTIONS.

We are informed that it is proposed by the Regents and State officers to invest $64,000 from the University fund in State Bonds under the $300,000 loan provided for by the last Legislature. Does not General Hatch say in his report that this University Fund has reverted to the Government?

Did not the terms of the grant declare that the proceeds could only be let at 5 per cent.?

Does not the $230,000 loan Act provide only for 4 per cent.?

Is not the money now in Government bonds?

How can you invest forfeited money at four per cent. when the grant restricted you to five?

What is the reason for changing the investment and who suggested it?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Journal hopes to see Senator Jones made Secretary of the Treasury. The idea is a good one. He combines in himself a complete assortment of financial theories, from the single gold standard to paper inflation. The country's credit would be greatly benefited by changing from Windom to Jones.

It is believed that John W. Mackey will make his home in New York. Therefore he will probably be Senator from Nevada. This is according to precedent.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to the EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

A Prominent Southern Senator's Views on the Senate Presidency.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

A prominent Southern Senator said to-day to a western Associated Press agent: "If we take this step and elect the President of the Senate, it will give the Republican press an opportunity to raise the question of sectionalism, and they will take advantage of it. They will say that a temporary majority of the Senate, dominated by the south, has seized the office in the hope of getting control of the government in the event of the death of President Arthur. I do not mean that any respectable portion of Republican press will suggest that the Democratic party or any member of it would assassinate Arthur to get the Presidential Chair. This idea has been advanced as an argument against the election of a Democrat, but it is only entertained by men base enough to conceive and comment upon such a crime for selfish purposes. It is scouted and condemned by all decent people."

An important consideration in this matter is that the South only can be injured by a revival of sectional politics. We of the South do not want any national power beyond our representative portion to which we are entitled. The Presidency of the Senate is an empty honor at best, especially as the Senate is now constituted, except the fact that only one life stands between it and the temporary Presidency. For my part, if I had my way, I should elect a conservative Republican to that position, if the Republicans would accord us the secretaryship and half the committee. This plan would prevent a revival of sectionalism which I foresee and dread, and besides in a material point of view, half of the committee are worth more than the Presidency of the Senate. Of course I shall be governed by the majority of my party, but I intend to state my views in caucus. Since the sectional agitation has ceased, the South has prospered as never before, and as I said before, its revival can only injure the South.

The Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

It seems to be pretty well understood that Postmaster General James will remain in his present position, at the desire of President Arthur, but he will not stay any longer than is required to wind up the Star route prosecutions. When these cases shall have been disposed of, he will retire at his own request, as an important position of higher pay awaits his command in New York. If General James remains in the Cabinet, as now seems assured, First Assistant Postmaster General Tyner will probably retire. He has never, it is said, been in accord with General James' administration of the Department, and those familiar with James' purposes and intentions say Tyner would have gone long ago, but for Garfield's death.

Guiteau's Grievance.

New York, October 6.

The Publication of Guiteau's biography in the New York Herald has occasioned much unfavorable comment on the methods of District Attorney Corkhill. The deception practiced upon the prisoner is generally condemned, as not in the interests of justice, as the whole document is susceptible of proof as the genuine words of Guiteau, and would tend rather to fortify the plea of insanity. Guiteau dictated the narrative under the belief and with an understanding that it should be published in a pamphlet form and for his benefit, the money to go to aid him in his defense, whereas it was sold by the stenographer of the District Attorney to the Herald for his own benefit.

A Flaming Train.

PORT Jervis, October 6.

A fire was discovered on an oil train on the Erie road at the crossing of the Delaware. The train was stopped, a part of the rear rushing on to the bridge. Fifteen cars were cut loose a few rods from the bridge, and an engine in the rear drew them back across the bridge. As each car exploded volumes of flames shot hundreds of feet into the air, and the burning oil and fragments of tanks were thrown one thousand yards. The end of the tank was thrown across the Delaware river. The telegraph wires were melted.

The Senate Presidency.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

The Democratic Senators will meet in conference at Senator Pendleton's residence to-morrow evening to discuss the organization of the Senate. Pendleton is chairman of the Democratic caucus, and he thinks by to-morrow night there will be at least thirty Democratic Senators here. While most of the Democrats declare unequivocally in favor of their electing a President of the Senate before swearing in the new Senators, a few hesitate, and think the step ought to be carefully considered before taking it. Some Democrats say they are in favor of electing a President and Secretary before swearing in the new Senators, but this does not seem to be the prevailing sentiment. There are several Democratic Senators who privately admit that they think the best policy would be to concede the Presidency to the Republicans, but these who think thus realize that they antagonize the majority sentiment of their party and therefore they are not willing to be publicly quoted as holding this opinion.

Tilden Gives Bookweller a Lift.

NEW YORK, October 6.

A Times' Ohio special describes the Democratic still hunt in Ohio, and declares that Bookweller has put $100,000 "where it will do the most good" next Tuesday. It is stated that Tilden's interest in the Ohio campaign has revived, and he has contributed liberally to the campaign fund. He is especially interested in the Democrats getting control of the Legislature, which would redistrict the State for Congressional purposes, insuring a Democratic majority in the Ohio delegation. By aiding in this matter it is claimed Tilden can rightfully claim the support of Democratic Congressmen two years hence.

Arthur on the Senate Situation.

WASHINGTON, October 7.

There are so few Democratic Senators here that the preliminary conference will probably be deferred until to-morrow. Morgan and Garland are quoted as being willing to give the Republicans the presiding officer of the Senate, the Democrats keeping Senator and Sergeant at Arms. The majority of Democrats insist that to fail to take the presiding officer would disgust the rank and file of the party. Arthur told certain Democratic Senators this morning that it would be wise in their party to yield the Presidency of the Senate to the Republicans.

The "Sun" Gone Dark Again.

NEW YORK, October 6.

The Sun's leading article to-day, under the head of "All Honor to the New York Republicans," begins: "We think every patriotic citizen should heartily rejoice over the proceedings of the Republican State Convention, held in this city Wednesday. The chief and most conspicuous feature of those proceedings was the sincere and unchangeable determination evinced by a great majority of the delegates to set the heel of the party firmly and immovably upon every attempt to make Grant President for a third term."

New York Politics.

NEW YORK, October 7.

The Tribune says the work of the Republican State Convention was generally discussed yesterday by the Republicans, and was very favorably regarded. Factional differences are disappearing, and there is entire unanimity in support of the ticket. Regret was expressed because of the failure to pass a reorganization resolution. The State Committee stands 20 anti-machine to 15 machine men.

New York Nominations.

NEW YORK, October 7.

In the New York Republican Convention, the preliminary proceedings of which were telegraphed yesterday, the following nominations were made: James W. Husted, State Treasurer; Joseph P. Carr, Secretary of State; Ira Davenport, State Controller; Leslie W. Russell, Attorney General.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

This has been a quiet day at the temporary Executive Mansion on Capitol hill. General Sherman and Benjamin F. Butler dined with the President, and after dinner the President and General Sherman took a drive. Secretary Kirkwood also called on the President to-day.

Mormon Matters.

SALT LAKE, October 6.

The Mormon Conference opened here to-day. Orson Pratt, one of the Apostles, was buried amid imposing ceremonies. About 10,000 people were in the tabernacle.

The annual Fair is under way, and is a marked success.

A Long Haul for Butter.

It is astonishing how far people will send for good things to eat. New Yorkers must have their Jamaica lamb early in the spring, and Baltimore oysters go all over America. The dairies in Surprise valley, two hundred miles away from any railroad, send their fine butter to Virginia City, Reno, Chicago, Sacramento etc. W. H. McCormick has a very superior hay ranch and makes the best of butter. He is also Justice of the Peace at Eagleville. R. W. Minto and Graham Tuttle, also make large quantities of butter. Butter up there is worth 25 cents a pound, eggs sixteen cents a dozen.

Rise in Material.

Lumber is up. All the mills along the river have raised the price per thousand from two to five dollars, and there is no stock to be had. The whole supply is either sold or engaged.

A Representative Western Man.

It is a hard thing to keep the average pioneer busy. A GAZETTE reporter recently jotted down the different lines of business that Jesse Hironymous, of Cedarville, is pursuing and apparently making each one a success. He has a grain and hay ranch of 1440 acres on Joseph Creek, southeast of Goose Lake. He has a band of three hundred horses on Pitt River. He has just sold a large band of cattle that he kept in Warner Valley. He keeps the largest hotel in the valley, and is just building a new front, two stories high, 24 x 64 feet. The house will have 45 rooms when finished. He has a band of 3,400 head of sheep on the north fork of Pitt River. He has a band of mares devoted to raising mules. He owns two fine jacks, one of them said to be the best in the country. He owns a livery and feed stable in Cedarville, and also a blacksmith shop. He owns a sawmill on Lassen Creek that supplies Goose Lake valley, and one in Cedar Canyon that runs for Surprise valley folks. He is also a school director in his district, and manages all his own business. He is coming to the Fair and the GAZETTE wants a premium for him.

One of the Sights.

Visitors to the city during Fair week will not fail to note the large and handsome drug store owned by R. E. Queen. Every one is impressed by the fact on entering his establishment that there is a place for everything, and everything is in its place, and with the neatness which reigns supreme, not less, perhaps, than with the massive shelving laden with the purest and freshest of drugs and medicines, the large and beautiful show cases, filled with the latest and most elegant styles of toilet goods, the prescription case, with its magnificent mirrors and its embossed center glass, a work of art by the talented artist T. F. Laycock, the beautiful pictures which adorn the walls, and the immense stock of chemicals, paints, oils, wines and brandies, picture moulding, in short, everything to be found in a first-class drug store. Nor will they be less pleased with the genial and enterprising proprietor, who by studying the interests of his patrons has built up a large and rapidly increasing business. Call and see him. He will be pleased to see you whether you wish to buy or not. You will see his sign, "Queen's Drug Store," on Virginia street.

Supreme Court.

In the Supreme Court the following cases have been set for the dates named: Jane Lake, respondent, vs. M. C. Lake, appellant—Oct. 27. W. Cain, respondent, vs. E. C. Seaton, et al., appellant—Oct. 27. State of Nevada, relator, vs. Fourth District court, respondent—Oct. 24. Nevada Orphan Asylum, vs. Board of Examiners and State Controller—Oct. 25.

EASTERN ELOPERS.

How They Swap Yokes in Pioche and the Counties of the Occasion.

The Pioche Record gives the following account of an elopement that recently occurred in that county: "Again we are called upon to chronicle an elopement. News reaches us from quiet, peaceful and happy Pahranagat valley that Bill Zent, who fills the high and honorable office of Constable in that locality, has disappeared, and also the wife of another man. This may be 'Al-bright' in the minds of the fleeing couple, but the husband of the fleeing woman does not think so. Between El Dorado Canyon and Pahranagat valley, Lincoln is liable to get a bad name. Latest—Husband followed fleeing couple 100 miles and overtook them. Both men done some lively jumping around the wagon. Husband covers lover with a revolver, and brings him to a stand, and orders his wife to get out of the wagon. She swore she wouldn't, but the old man pulled her out by the leg, made her straddle a mule and ride home while he walked. Albright said he would have liked Zent, but he feared that Zent and the old woman would double up on him."

Bodie's Future.

From Mr. M. B. Kellogg, of San Francisco, the GAZETTE learns that the mines of Lundy are looking up. He has interests in that region in which there is abundant encouragement, and they will be worked. He does not believe Bodie has "petered" yet, by any means, and thinks there are some of the greatest mines on the coast in that region. The Bodie Free Press says that H. M. Yerington arrived there on Monday last, and on Tuesday paid a visit to the new sawmill of the Bodie Railway & Lumber Company near Mono lake. He pronounces this mill the finest on the coast, and, judging from a description of it, this is true. Mr. Yerington states that the narrow gauge will be in running order by the 20th. The Carson & Colorado road will soon be in Candelaria, and the prospect is that it will be extended to Bishop Creek at an early day. He has no fears as to the future of Bodie, and thinks that the camp is all right.

Fair Notes.

Governor Wood will deliver the Annual Address at the pavilion next Thursday evening. Harry Bernard will be up with a fine display of buggies, wagons, etc. The GAZETTE will be the best paper in the State during Fair week. The grounds are very lively these mornings. The track is alive with horses.

Reform Club.

The following programme has been arranged for to-morrow evening: Song No. 14.....Club Reading.....Mrs. A. Walker Song No. 23.....Club Address.....W. M. Carson Races.

The people of Carson are anxious to provide for a week's races after the regular State Fair. Mr. Sweeney, of that place, is now trying to arrange a programme. If the people there will show a proper spirit, and provide suitable inducements, there will be no doubt as to their success. The Reno people will encourage the enterprise in every suitable way.

Personal.

E. V. Spencer, Susanville, is in town. B. Edson, of Genoa, is in Sacramento. O. P. Keyes came down from Carson last evening. H. F. Whitney was a passenger for Carson this morning. Dolph Shane, the well-known sporting man, is in Reno. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Emmett have returned from San Francisco. Philo Knapp was in Reno last evening looking over the Fair situation. Edward S. Stokes, Austin, came up from San Francisco this morning. General John P. Kittrell returned from Bridgeport, Mono county, last evening. J. R. Yerington, Montreal, arrived last night and went to Carson this morning. R. Kirmas, Virginia, was a passenger on the morning express from San Francisco.

Old Rip from the Catskills.

The McWade comedy company will open the Nevada Theater on Monday evening next with "Rip Van Winkle." Robert McWade is one of the best comedians now traveling, and he appears in his own dramatization of this popular comedy. McWade is a true lover of his profession, and a treat may be confidently expected. This company will occupy the Theatre throughout Fair week, with a change of programme every other night. They should have a hearty reception on Monday night. Reserved seats at the F. O.

WESTERN TELEGRAMS.

The Apache War.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 7. A Tucson Citizen's special from San Carlos has news from sub-Agent Avag which says eighteen of George's band have come in and surrendered. Major Wilhelm has started to Camp Thomas with them. George is reported in concealment near there with four men. This verifies the wisdom of Souches' advice, who said that if everything was kept quiet the hostiles would all come into the agency, and he promised to point out the guilty ones. A Wilcox dispatch brings news from San Carlos, saying that Chief George left the sub-agency last night with about fifteen men. A report is just received that two men were killed within two miles of Benson to-day. A dispatch from Colonel Boyfield at Sulphur Springs valley at 6 o'clock this p. m. says that the hostiles are striking for the Mexican line and that he will follow them into Sonora, and will co-operate with the Mexican troops if necessary. The Indians are in the southern part of the Chiricahua Mountains. Men just in from the direction of Bowie report having seen Indians in that vicinity, and troops are to be ordered in pursuit.

Senator Jones at Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 7. It is rumored that Eugene L. Sullivan, Collector of this port, and father-in-law of Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, is to be appointed resident Minister of Mexico. The appointment is one that has peculiar attractions for Californians, Congressman Pacheco and ex-Representative Houghton from the Southern district of California being candidates for the position. Senator Samuel H. Sears, of Marin, anti-Debris agitator, it is said, will succeed Mr. Sullivan as Collector.

The Takona Mines.

PORTLAND, October 6. The steamer California leaves for Sitka to-morrow morning and takes ten gentlemen largely interested in the Takona mines. Seven from San Francisco. She has 300 tons of freight and a five-stamp mill for Dennis Dupont.

A New Grain Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 7. Victoria reports from the Main land show that the recent heavy rains have almost entirely destroyed cereal crops throughout the province. On the island the crops were all safely housed.

A Celestial Translated.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 7. A small fire occurred among some Chinese shanties in the vicinity of Bull Run alley last night. One Chinaman was burned to death. Damage to property, trifling.

Sutro Saved.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6. The suit of Leah Sutro vs. Adolph Sutro for a divorce has been dismissed by Judge Wilson on stipulation. It has been before the courts for two years.

Nevada Capitalists Branching Out. The Nevada Transcript says that a company consisting of Messrs. Yerington, Bliss, and other well-known capitalists of the State of Nevada, has been formed to develop the gold deposits known to exist in the Chapman ranch premises, just west of Nevada City. They are running a tunnel to strike the main ledge, starting in the gulch 300 yards above the house.

A Landscape Freak.

Lake Anna, just above Fort Bidwell, is one of nature's jokes. Only a narrow strip of rocky moraine makes it a lake at all. This natural dam runs across the mouth of the canyon and keeps it back. The water covers about 20 acres. Mr. Woodson has made a fish ranch of it, and visitors from the valley go up and catch delicious trout just as fast as they want to pay for them. Water enough seeps through under the ground to irrigate quite a ranch.
